The Bishop's Castle Area

Bishop's Castle is a small and ancient market town with a history dating back some 800 years. The castle at the top of the town— only a few remnants of walls remain - was built by the Bishops of Hereford in the 13th century, thought to be a replacement of that at nearby Bishop's Moat where the motte and bailey can still be seen. The castle site is now covered by a picnic area with fine views of the town and countryside, a bowling green and the Castle Hotel and gardens.

The Town Hall at the top of the high street is a grade 11* listed building dating from around 1765 and is the visitor information centre for the town and area. It also hosts a wide variety of music events, talks, markets & sales, art exhibitions and classes. Go to www.bishopscastletownhall.co.uk for more information.

The parish church at the bottom of the town is Victorian with a 13th century Norman tower. Between the castle site and the church is an architecturally diverse array of old houses and shops, many of them medieval properties with newer fronts! There is an interesting selection of places to eat, drink and buy food for picnics and more formal meals. The town has 2 breweries, at the Six Bells Inn (opposite the church which has a peal of 6 bells) and John Roberts Brewery adjacent to The Three Tuns Inn. The latter is over the road from the Old Market Place, a paved area with good seating overlooked by the Powys Coat of Arms.

The House on Crutches Museum at the top of the High Street and The Railway and Transport Museum nearby in School Lane, both open at weekend from Easter to October, help illustrate all aspects of local history. The Heritage Resource Centre in Chapel Yard is the main research arm of the museums and people trying to find out more about the town, area and its families.

The position of Wintles Hillside in relation to the town.

The Wintles Hillside

The Wintles Hillside consists of thirteen acres of woodland and meadow privately owned and maintained by the residents of The Wintles housing development. The land is bounded on two sides by public footpaths, one of which is the Shropshire Way north which passes the Foxholes Castle Camping campsite.

Permissive paths have been established so residents and visitors can also enjoy this valuable link between town and countryside. Walkers are welcome, with or without their dogs. There is the Shrine shelter (front picture) and many benches for rest, way marked paths through and around mixed woodland.

There is a central fruit labyrinth, allotments and areas for pigs and hens as well as an apiary (well away from walkers). The Motte is easily accessible and offers great views and seats. The diversity of the planting and the way the land is managed encourage a wide variety of birds, insects and small mammals.

All visitors are requested to treat this private property with respect as if it were their own, damaging nothing and leaving no litter. Please keep to the way marked paths and clean up after dogs.

Please do NOT:

- Bicycle or ride horses
- Camp or light fires
- Feed or interfere in any way with pigs or hens.
- Enter the allotments or any other private area.
- Harvest fruit or nuts.
- Park on the adjacent road
